Informed consent - information for interlocutor

Dear Madam or Sir,

We invite you to participate as an interlocutor in the scientific research conducted by the Institute for Anthropological Research (Zagreb) as a part of the "Solidarity Economy in Croatia: Anthropological Perspective" (SOLIDARan) project, financed by the Croatian Science Foundation.

The principal investigator of the research is dr.sc Olga Orlić, the senior research associate at the Institute for Anthropological Research (Zagreb). The research will be conducted on the territory of the Republic of Croatia (, Zagreb and its surroundings, Slavonia Dalmatia, Istria and Primorje regions). The main goal of the research is to provide a contribution to theoretical reflections on a solidarity economy. In this part of the research, we want to explore the elements of the solidarity economy phenomenon in the contemporary Croatian context, primarily from the anthropological perspective. This is to gain a better insight into practices and potential problems different actors in the practices of the solidarity economy have as well as into ways of solving them, if such exist.

For this project, its applied goal is also extremely important - to create a model (guidelines) for implementation of solidarity economy practices' elements in public policies, but also to encourage such practices in a wider society. The data collected in this way can significantly contribute to the creation of such guidelines that can be useful to practitioners of the solidarity economy, if implemented in an appropriate manner.

For all additional questions about the research, please contact rr.sc Olga Orlic at: olga.orlic@inantro.hr.

Please read this Informed Consent for Research Participation carefully. In case you do not understand any part of the Informed Consent, please contact the examiner or the project manager for an explanation. Your participation in this interview is voluntary and you may withdraw or choose to skip any of the questions at any time. If you decide to participate in this research, you will be asked to sign the Informed Consent with an indication of the date. Beside the project leader/principal investigator, the Informed Consent is signed by the interlocutor and the researcher who conducts the research interview before the start of the interview. The informed consent is signed in 2 copies, one of which remains in the possession of the research interviewee.

Your personal data collected through this research interview will be used exclusively for scientific purposes. The data from your interview can be used (in the form of quotes or isolated statements) during the dissemination of research results by all collaborators on the project: in scientific papers, books or during conference presentations on presentations or posters. If you want to remain anonymous, your name and surname will not be mentioned anywhere, and your anonymity is guaranteed. In that case, you can choose a pseudonym from the database (catalogue) of personal Croatian names that will be offered to you. The audio recording of the conversation and/or the transcript of the interview can, if you wish, be delivered to you by e-mail or to your home address.

The audio recording of the research conversation will be stored in the main researcher's computer and in the Audio Materials Database of the Institute of Anthropology. Transcripts of the conversation (coded information about the interlocutor, the code book will be stored the project leader) will be printed and stored in the Database of Qualitative Research of the Institute of Anthropology under a project number. Also, the transcripts of the research interview will be available for use only to collaborators of this research, for purposes of scientific analyses.
